A civilian is "a person who is not a member of the military". While some American police and firefighter organizations call those outside of their groups as civilian, this is from unofficial and informal grouping, the same way a professional in one field may informally call those not in their field as "civilians". For legal definitions and the purpose of this article, civilians are those ...

The non-aggression principle (or NAP; also called the non-aggression axiom, the anti-coercion, zero aggression principle or non-initiation of force) is an ethical stance asserting that aggression is inherently wrong. In this context, "aggression" is defined as initiating or threatening any forcible interference with an individual or individual's property.
